Interlux Yacht Finishes and Travelers Ocean Marine Return as Presenting Sponsors at the 2020 New Jersey Boat Sale & Expo

Brielle, NJ – The Marine Trades Association of New Jersey is proud to announce that two major Presenting Sponsors, Interlux Yacht Finishes and Travelers Ocean Marine are returning to the 2020 edition of the New Jersey Boat Sale and Expo, scheduled for February 13-16 at the New Jersey Convention and Expo Center in Edison. The popular family event is timed to coincide when boating becomes a major focus point of the upcoming summer months that are right around the corner.

Interlux Yacht Finishes has been an integral part of the boating community for more than 100 years, providing superior quality marine paints not only for wooden boats of decades ago, but today's modern fiberglass vessels as well, constantly developing new products both durable and environmentally friendly for professionals and the do-it yourself boating community. From primers to fillers, to top coat to anti-foulant paints, Interlux Yacht Finishes cover the marine landscape with quality products that protect, preserve, are easy to apply and make boats look great on the water.

Jay Smida, sales representative from Interlux said, "Interlux is excited to be a Presenting Sponsor once again at the 2020 New Jersey Boat Sale and Expo. Each and every year we strive to take the opportunity to give something back to our New Jersey boating community consisting of the boaters, boat yards, and marina communities and ultimately support our wonderful industry. The New Jersey Boat Sale and Expo is a great show, one that we are incredibly proud to be a part of. We look forward to seeing everyone in February."

Travelers Ocean Marine Insurance insures marinas, boat dealers, marine contractors, marine repair operations, ocean cargo, and other commercial marine exposures. Alex Kripetz, managing director from Travelers Ocean Marine Insurance remarked, "The New Jersey Boat Sale and Expo, now in its ninth year, gets better and better and is why Travelers is glad to sponsor and attend this important marine event." Kripetz added, "Melissa Danko, her staff and the hard-working volunteers of the Marine Trades Association of New Jersey have great plans for this year's event. We encourage all to attend this show and see why it has become one of the best boat shows in the tri-state area."

Make plans now to attend the 2020 New Jersey Boat Sale and Expo, where summer is a state of mind. There will be hundreds of boats on display, a fabulous boater's marketplace full of marine accessories and gear, boating and fishing seminars, hours of activities and fun for boaters of all ages and much, much more.
